

Cycle	Countries	Cycle Years	Mandatory Theme
XXXXVI	Mexico	2024-2025	The new roles adopted by the American Armies, in response to the challenges of the 21st century within the framework of the international legislation of each country
XXXV	Brazil	2022-2023	The contribution of the Conference of American Armies in the process of transformation and preparation of the "Army of the Future" for the expansion of cooperation and integration in facing the challenges and threats that may affect the security and stability of the American Continent.
XXXIV	Argentina	2020-2021	"The Development and Professionalization of the Non-Commissioned Officers (NCO) as a Leader at all hierarchical levels of command and staff, in accordance with the particular career plans, in the Armies of the American Continent." Lessons learned in the fight against COVID-19 and its future implications for the Armies, especially on leadership, their participation in civil protection operations and training in a pandemic environment.
XXXIII	Dominican Republic	2018-2019	Leadership and Military Support to Civil Authorities in Joint and Interagency Environments in Response to Emerging Threats in the Americas, considering the legitimate differences in the capabilities, roles and legal framework of each country.
XXXII	United States	2016-2017	The role and contribution of hosts members of the CAA in interagency operations in response to emerging challenges for the defense of the Americas, considering its legitimate difference in capabilities, roles and legal framework of each country

Cycle	Countries	Cycle Years	Mandatory Theme
XXXI	Colombia	2014-2015	The American Armies, its contribution in the peace keeping operations, disaster relief operations and the new challenges of the XXI century to the defense, developing procedures to facilitate the cooperation and interoperability among the army members, taking into consideration its legitimate difference in capabilities, roles and the legal frame of each country
XXX	Mexico	2012-2013	CAA and its contribution to Peacekeeping Operations (in compliance of a UN mandate) and Disaster Relief Operations through the creation and use of mechanisms and procedures designed to improve the collective capacities and interoperability of their members.  (XXIX Commanders' Accord No. 3)
XXIX	Peru	2010-2011	CAA and its contribution to Peacekeeping Operations (in compliance of a UN mandate) and Disaster Relief Operations, through the creation and use of mechanisms and procedures designed to improve the collective capacities and interoperability of their members.
XXVIII	Argentina	2008-2009	The CAA and its contribution in Peacekeeping Operations (under UN mandate) and Disaster Relief Operations, through the establishment and application of mechanisms and procedures capable of improving the collective capacities of its members and their interoperability.
XXVII	Brazil	2006-2007	The CAA and its contribution to Peacekeeping Operations (carried out under the UN's Mandate) and to Disaster Relief Operations through the creation and application of mechanisms and procedures for improvement of the joint capabilities of its Members and their interoperability.

Cycle	Countries	Cycle Years	Mandatory Theme
XXVI	Argentina	2004-2005	The Conference of the American Armies and its contribution to Hemispheric Security and Defense through an increased ability to work together, for Chapter 6 Peacekeeping Operations and Disaster Relief Operations, based on commonalities in doctrine, training, logistics, communications and intelligence.
XXV	Canada	2002-2003	The American Armies and their contribution to the formation of defense policies in the context of new challenges to continental security
XXIV	Chile	2000-2001	The American Armies in the framework of relations and international rights at the start of the XXI century? impacts on national defense.
XXIII	Bolivia	1998-1999	The CAA in the 21st Century.
XXII	Ecuador	1996-1997	Participation of the Army in the development of their country and in cooperative action for security and international peace in the framework of a democratic society.
XXI	Argentina	1994-1995	Challenges for the Nation State, consequences for continental security and its affects on the American Armies
XX	Brazil	1992-1993	Participation of American Armies and their reserves in contributing to their governments to guarantee continental security in view of the new world situation The formation of economic blocs and/or alliances supported by international organizations and the pressures on the need of the armed forces, their missions and access to technology.
XIX	United States	1990-1991	Maintenance of democracy on the continent in view of the ideological liberalization of the communist world The political, social and economic realities of the American countries.
XVIII	Guatemala	1988-1989	The conflict in Central America, analysis, and evaluation from the point of view of military policy during the period 1978-89.

Cycle	Countries	Cycle Years	Mandatory Theme
XVII	Argentina	1986-1987	Combating international terrorism, Threats, Policy and Response.
XVI	Chile	1984-1985	The army in a democratic society Subversion in Latin America? Perspectives and Delimitations The defensive coalition in the Americas.
XV	Venezuela	1983	Cooperative action to identify, isolate and neutralize external support to communist subversives in the Americas The communist threat to security of the hemisphere Methods to increase the efficiency of the Organization of Inter-American Armies.
XIV	United States	1981	Psychological warfare Guarantee from Member Armies not to permit subversive elements from other countries to operate in their country.
XIII	Colombia	1979	Improving professional education of soldiers Administrative training Approval of the Conference Regulations.
XII	Nicaragua	1977	Integration of the Inter-American System and The fight against communist subversion
XI	Uruguay	1975	Rules of the CAA Security of the Americas Integral education system in the Americas (to contribute to the eradication of subversion)
X	Venezuela	1973	Strategies against subversion in the Americas for the security of the hemisphere
IX	United States	1969	Communist subversion in the Americas Democratic education and instruction on fighting a revolutionary battle
VIII	Brazil	1968	Several themes on security of the hemisphere
VII	Argentina	1986-1987	Perfecting the military system and its incorporation with the charter of the CAA

Cycle	Countries	Cycle Years	Mandatory Theme
VI	Peru	1965	Cooperation between the army and government organizations for better interaction with the social order of the people and organization and training of the army for internal security
V	United States	1964	Administration of training and intensifying preparations of armies in Revolutionary Wars
IV	United States	1963	The establishment of a Communications Net to transmit and exchange information on subversive movements
III	United States	1962	Logistics
II	United States	1961	Various Themes including Personnel, Intelligence, Operations, Logistics, Civil Action and Military Policy
I	United States	1960	Themes presented by the USA including Information, Operations, Logistics, Govt. Audits. Themes presented by other Member Armies including Operations, Information and Logistics